TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!

Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world." This line, the has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air-brake.

ST. LOUIS & SOUTHEASTERN RAILWAY,

It is possitively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Room Sleeping Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretends to offer such advantages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES McCABE, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION,

By His Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, October 22d, 1873.

WHEREAS, The people of North Carolina have been abundantly blessed during the past year, and the earth hath yielded bountifully of all the products of its soil so that the garners of the husbandman are filled to overflowing; and the industrious mechanic has realized a rich reward for his labor, and every class of our population prospered in all laudable enterprises; and WHEREAS, above all, fraternal feelings and good will have in a great measure been restored in our midst, and no plague, pestilence or famine has visited our State: Now, therefore, as it becomes us, a grateful people, to render thanks to Almighty God for these and numberless other blessings showered upon us in His great mercy, I, Tod R. Caldwell, Governor of North Carolina, in obedience to law and in conformity with an honored precedent, do appoint and set apart

Thursday, November 27th, 1873,

as a day of public Thanksgiving throughout the State; and I do earnestly invite the clergy of every denomination to open their respective houses of worship on said day, and to exhort their congregations to humble themselves before the throne of the ever living God, and render unto Him praises which are justly due, invoking for themselves, their State and their whole country, His guidance and protection throughout all time to come.

"O come, let us sing unto the Lord, let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation."

"Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms."

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Thursday, November 13th, 1873.

A PROCLAMATION,

By the President of the United States of America.

The approaching close of another year brings with it the occasion for renewed thanksgiving and acknowledgment to the Almighty Ruler of the Universe for the unnumbered mercies which He has bestowed upon us.

Abundant harvests have been among the rewards of industry. With local exceptions health has been among the many blessings enjoyed. Tranquility at home and peace with other nations have prevailed. Frugal industry is regaining its merited recognition and its merited rewards.

Gradually, but, under the providence of God, surely, as we trust, the nation is recovering from the lingering results of a dreadful civil strife.

For these and all the other mercies vouchsafed, it becomes us as a people to return heartfelt and grateful acknowledgments, and with our thanksgiving for blessings we may unite prayers for the cessation of local and temporary sufferings.

I, therefore, recommend that on Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship, to make their acknowledgments to Almighty God for His bounties and His protection, and to offer to Him prayers for their continuance.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 14th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and [L.S.] of the independence of the United States the ninety-seventh.

U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH,
Secretary of State.

Abdel Kader.

The death of Abdel Kader was announced yesterday. This man was among the most remarkable men of a remarkable race. Born in the year 1807, educated for law and theology, he turned with disdain from those peaceful pursuits, and was one of the most obstinate enemies the French found to their schemes of African colonization. His lineage was most illustrious; his decent was direct from the Fatinite Caliphs, and his father, Mahiddeen, emir of Mascara, had the highest reputation for those qualities which are respected most by Musselmen.

The opposition of Abdel Kader to the French began in 1831. In that year he began to consolidate the native tribes in resistance, and ended in 1848, by his capitulation. He was taken to France, and kept a prisoner by King Louis Philippe and the Republic, until 1852 when Louis Napoleon released him on condition that he would not take up armt against France, ner return to Algiers. He resided at Constantinople till his death.

The energy and indomitable courage of this man marked him for great exploits; and although his life was cast among semi-barbarous tribes, his enemies the most warlike nation of Europe, and his career finally shadowed by defeat, yet his constancy and untiring devotion must challenge the admiration of the world. Wherever patriotism and valor finds fame, the name of Abdel Kader will be known. Poetry has sounded his praies, and his niche in history will be conspicuous.

A Suggestion.

In the manufacturing cities of the North the outlook for the ensuing winter appears gloomy. The mills and work are partially stopped, and thousands of operatives are out of steady ployment. The suffering which will be the consequence cannot be thoroughly appreciated by any one who is ignorant of the severity of a New England winter. Already the subject is being considered by those who feel the impulse of philanthropy; and means are being devised to get the hands who are out of work, through the unemployed times. Though many of these operatives are as able to bear hard times as well as the companies which employ them, there are necessarily many who have no prospect except their weekly wages. These are legitimate objects of charity, and no doubt they will receive it.

Among the measures which can be adopted to relieve distress is to carry on municipal works as largely as possible. This would be beneficial to all. The laborer would have work and bread without the sting of being receivers of alms, and the cities and towns would receive a return for their money. The burden for the support of the poor would be better distributed, and the generous alone would not contribute.

Unless the prospect brightens the calamity will be upon us South as well as North. Some such provision ought to be considered, and steps taken to inaugurate a system which will give employment to all who are without employment and means to get through the winter.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

— The Alabama State fair has been indefinitely postponed in consequence of the stringency of the times.

— Major Robert Ould, jr., after an extended visit to California and China, has returned to Richmond with renewed health.

On Wenesday it was discovered that all the bolts in one entire section of the iron bridge across the Appomattox had been stolen, and that the section was only held in its place by the joints. It only remained for some dark night to lend its favor for the thieves to have carried off the section itself.

— Attorney General Williams has received a report from the United States district marshal for the Western district of Texas, conveying information of the assassination of Deputy Marshal John P. Fries at Brockettsville, Texas, on the 25th of October. This is the fifth deputy marshal assassinated in that district during the past year or so.

— The hard tcmes do not seem to have affected the manufactories in Seymour, Conn., very disastronsly. The United States Pin Company, Fowler Nail Company, Day's rubber works and the paper works are all running full time. The Douglass Manufacturing Company and the New Haven Copper Company are running nine hours, with a full complement of hands.

— George Washington is constantly doing some act which brings him into trouble. Not content with being the "Father of his Country," and receiving the homage of a grateful country (thro' a grate) at Mount Vernon, he wanders off to Richmond county, near the seat of his nativity and apple tree feat, and commits a burglary. For this latter offence he was, on Thursday, brought from Richmond county and lodged in the penitentiary for one year.

— A saloon keeper on Larned street, Detroit, who is fond of practical jokes, fixed up a chair the other day so that any one sitting down on it would break it; and for several days they had a good time with it; but the other day a gloomy-looking stranger came in and took the seat, and as he went down his foot tipped over the stove, the pipe came apart and one piece went through the looking-glass, the frame of which fell and broke four decanters and a tumbler, and in the confusion the gloomy-looking man disappeared. And the saloon-keeper didn't laugh.

GIBLEM LODGE.

Proceedings in their new Lodge Room.

Giblem Lodge No. 2, F. and A. A. Y. M., on the 10th of November, 1873, held a regular communication for the first time in their new Lodge building in this city. The following is a portion of the ceremonies instituted on that occasion, the following named officers of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina being present: Wm. McLaurin, R. W. D. G. M., James W. Telfair, G. S. W., Owen Dove, Grand Marshal, and Geo. L. Mabson, P. Grand Lecturer.

CEREMONIES.

1st—Music—"Siloam," by the Lodge Choir.

2nd—Prayer.

3rd—Music—"Dundee."

4th—Opening Address, delivered by Geo. L. Mabson, P. Grand Lecturer.

After the address was delivered, it was ordered that the same be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge; and further, that brothers J. C. Hill and James Lane be and they are hereby appointed a committee to have a copy of said address published in one of the newspapers of this city, which is as follows:

Worshipful Master,

Wardens and Brethren:

The ceremony in which we are about to engage presents a fitting occacion to render humble thanks to Almighty God for his great blessings. The obvious truth that we are here duly assembled in our own structure where none can molest us, ought to incline our hearts with gratitude towards the Supreme Ruler of the Universe. He it is who controlled our affairs, since the erection of this Temple first began; it was He who prevented us from faltering while executing our trust, by Him all calamities have been averted. This induces a pleasing contemdplation of the sublime principles of our institution and the grandeur of our Temple. When the erection of a building such as this was first proposed, it will be remembered by some of you, brethren, here present that we were not all of one mind, as regarded our ability to complete our work if commenced, while many foreshadowed the event over which we rejoice to-night the assembling of our Lodge under this roof; others were loud and bold in predicting that our success was a matter of impossibility, that ten years would have passed away ere we could fix and build this our home. There were others who had not forgotten the lesson learned within these sacred walls that time, patience and perseverance would accomplish all things, these were instrumental in effecting for us so distinguishing a happiness and it will be remembered, that many brethren got weary after the work was begun. They hesitated and the declaration fell from their lips "the burden is too great, we cannot bear it." They had no faith, no hope, no charity; they divested that beautiful specimen of workmanship, of which we are so often taught, of it three principle rounds, forgetting even that Jacob's ascension to Heaven was owing to their forgetting that the ladder never would have penetrated the clouds, directed as it was to our starry decked Heaven, where all good Masons expect to arrive. Many familiar faces that I once knew as members of Giblem Lodge are missing to-day, I fear they have gone from among us, but although this may be the fact, I am frank to say brethren, that in the future as at the present, they must admit that Giblem Lodge was dedicated to God, and has borne her burdens to the spot where she can rest from her labor. Let us be thankful for our success, keep in remembrance the difficulties through which we have passed, do honor to that generous public more especially the ladies, who so kindly contributed to our aid, confirm ourselves anew to keep alive the principles of our fraternity, to the honor of our institution. Brethren though there was dissatisfaction and grievous discontent on the part of some at our assumption of authority and presumption of our ability to complete this beautiful piece of architecture, let us act as best comports with our dignity and the honor of the fraternity. Such a course will gain for us the high reward of our own self-respect, and may tend to induce a returning sense of justice from those who have opposed us. Upon this good sense let us rely securely on the preservation of our ancient order and the dispensing to a remote posterity the blessings that we enjoy under it. Despite many attempts to retard us and embarrass us in the early completion of our work; notwithstanding a vigorous but ineffectual opposition, with steady progress our massive walls have ascended to the height designed to remain the admiration of the world. Let me say that a great work has been more than half accomplished, a vast enterprise wisely projected, a duty has been performed. We have assembled here to redouble our exertions for the completion of the undertaking. I have spoken of the loftiness of its purpose. It has a purpose and that purpose gives it character. That purpose enrobes it with dignity and moral grandeur. I believe that by a strict observance of of prudence and economy this Temple will grudually arrive at completion. Its durability, its solidity, its uprightness is no unfit emblem of the principles of our noble order, principles as firm as the earth on which it stands as the serene heaven under which it stands. Yet it would mbulder away by the remorseless hand of Time, the solid ground it rests upon may sink down to a level with the sea, but the noble principles of our most noble order will never fail.—Wherever among men a heart shall be found that beats to the transports of Faith, Hope and Charity, let that heart be led to such edifices, glowing in silent but awful utterances in the glorious contemplation of its noble purposes. I have indulged in gratifying recolections of the past on the prosperity and pleasures of the present and on high hope for the future. But let us remember that we have duties and obligations to perform corresponding to the blessings we enjoy.—Let us remember the trust, the sacred trust, attaching to the rich inheritance which we have received. Let us feel our personal responsibility to the full extent of our power and influence. Let us trust that ere long the brilliancy of this Masonic Temple will strikingly dazzle the eye of the stranger as he may pass by, and vividly illuminate the mind of the true patron of Free Masonry who perchance may be able to pass from the Middle Chamber to the sanctum sanctorum, to behold the beauties and glories of Ancient Free Masonry. In our day and generation let us as true Masons seek to raise and improve the Christian sentiment, so that we may look not for a degraded but for an elevated and improved future. And when both we and our children shall have been consigned to the temple appointed for all living, may our Masonic histories descend with equal fervor among those to whom our names and our blood shall have descended. And then, when honored and future Masons shall be gathered around the structure, when the one shall speak to the other of its objects, the purposes of its construction, of those who reared it, and the great and glorious events with which it is connected, there will arise from every breast the exclamation, "Thank God, I—I also—am a Mason."

An editor once wrote: "We have received a basket of strawberries from Mr. Smith, for which he will receive our compliments, some of which are four inches in circumference."

"Lightning saws," are announced by some dealers in hardware. That people see lightning during a thunder storm is plain enough, but why they should saw lightning is a problem.

The principal of a young ladies' seminary, up town where especial attention is devoted to deportment, was horrified the other day to find the big girls playing "leap-frog" in the back yard.

"Why," asked a governess of her little charge, "do we pray God to give us our daily bread? Why don't we ask for four days, or five days, or a week?" "We want it fresh," replied the ingenuous child.

A postal card was received at Portland, Me., recently, having a dollar bill sewed on one side of it, and directly above the bill was written: "If this is stolen, it will be after it leaves the Kittery post-office."

A man at Princeton College believes in having "a place for everything and everything in its place." He nails his slippers on the wall, four feet up, and then all he has to do of an evening is to wheel up his easy chair in front of them.

"PAYNIC,"—A rustic from an adjoining county having recently visited the city, and not having suffered in his financial affair, just "hearn tell on the paynic," enquir ingly asks if it was a "cotching complaint," Being informed that it was an inveterate disease about these capes he invested in a bottle of pain killer and left the city for his healthy home in due time.

OPERA HOUSE.—We have no doubt but the Tremaines will be greeted with a full house to-night. They are not only great favorites here, but really give so fine an entertainment that no lover of music can afford to remain away.—They have made several important additions to their troupe since they were last here, and are every way worthy of patronage.

— We saw quarters of venison going about the city yesterday. Guess "Tom" Johnson has got home.
— The city needs a larger police force, but if they are employed the people will grumble at the expense.

LURKING AROUND.—Last night, as the clerk of a store on the corner of Fourth and Castle streets, went around to the back window in the yard to the store, and found a white man prying around the window. The clerk essayed to catch him, but the man was fleet of foot and outstripped him in the race.—We have been informed that there have been several men lurking about the neighborhood for the past week, and are supposed to be the pickpockets who have been in our midst for several days. The attention of the police has been called to these gentlemen in transit, and were on the lookout for them when the woman was stopped last night.

THE Lessees of the Opera House having concluded to do a tardy act of justice by providing seats for respectable colored people in that building, the public, that is, that part who respect themselves are advised by the Journal to keep away. Is the Journal aware that in almost all Southern cities arrangements are made to seat the colored people in a reputable part of theatres? This maneuvre is almost too late. The colored people are allowed in all public places the same rights white people have, and the fact may as well be admitted; nor it is not probable that people who have respect for themselves will be frightened by the Journal's bugbear.

The arrangements which have been made cannot give offense to the most fastidious. There is no mixing. The colored people simply have seats boxed off to themselves, and a separate entrance provided. Let the fair minded public judge for itself of the changes which have been made before it concludes to keep away, in future, from the Opera House.

STATE ITEMS.

On Sunday 2,600 bales of cotton passed through Charlotte, over the Piedmont Air-Line railway. It was shipped from Memphis direct to Liverpool, via Norfolk.

Surely the News does not mean that the Herald is to have no religion or temperance. "Capt. Jas. O. Robertsonis soon to begin the publication of a weekly paper at Murphy, Cherokee county. It is to be called the Cherokee Herald, and is to be neutral in politics, religion and temperance."

Mica seems to be abundant in North Carolina, The following is the latest discovery we have to chronicle. The Home says: "Many in Mecklenburg will be pleased to hear that the widow of the late Thomas McLean, of Steele Creek, has met with a piece of good fortune. She bought a farm near Lenoir, Caldwell county, for $250. Mica has been discovered upon it, and she has been offered $30,000 for the farm."

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 13.

An Havana letter, under date of the 8th instant, gives the following particulars of the capture of the Virginius:

The Virginius, shortly after the departure of the French steamer for Santiago de Cuba, left Jamaica on the 24th ult. It was the intention of the expeditionists on board to sail direct for the shores of Cuba, but slight damage to the machinery obliged them to enter a port of Hayti. This they left, touching at Port au Prince, Hayti, and another part of the same island, until the 30th, upon which day they concluded to sail for Cuba and attempt a landing. On this day the Spanish consul at Kingston advised the Governor at Santiago de Cuba that the Virginius was in the vicinity of Morrant Bay, Jamaica. As it happened the Spanish man-of-war Tornado had that morning arrived at Santiago de Cuba, and Gov. Burriel immediately communicated to her commander his information, which caused her to leave four hours afterwards.

On the following day, 31st, the Tornado, under full sail and with but little steam on, as some slight repairs was being made to her machinery, came in sight of the Virginius, which probably supposed the Tornado to be a sailing vessel, as her course was not changed On the Tornado every effort was made to hasten the repairs they were engaged in, and at 2 o'clock the chief engineer pronounced them completed. All steam possible was immediately got up, and the vessel headed for the Virginius, soon reaching a speed of fourteen knots, and slowly gaining upon her.

The Virginius had in the meantime kept on her course, but divining the hostile intentions of the Tornado, changed it towards Jamaica, and being out of coal commenced to burn petroleum, grease, fat and other combustibles from the provisions on board, such as hams, &c. Night closed in and the vessels were in the same relative positions. The Tornado, however, gaining upon her prey. The bright light of a full mon kept the Virginius in plain sight, and her two masts and the dense clouds of smoke, on account of the nature of her fuel, were clearly visible to to the slowly gaining Tornado. Further to facilitate their flight they threw overboard horses, cannon and many cases of arms and ammunition, afterwards 2,000 remingtons and mitrailleuse, several horses and a quantity of powder, and small arms. As soon as they got within gun shot the Tornado fired a gun followed by three other shots and shell. This brought the Virginius to, and two armed boats from the Tornado came alongside and took possession of the vessel and made prisoners of all on board. At the time of the capture of the Virginius she was flying the American flag, but this was pulled down by Spanish officers and the Spanish ensign hoisted in its place. The vessel at the time was in British waters and within a league, as I am positively assured, of the coast of Jamaica. On this point all accounts differ. One gives the capture as having been effected 20 miles from Jamaica, and the official account states 12 miles. The Diaria states at 23 miles, the journals of Santiago de Cuba 8 miles and 20 miles, and the version of the Voz de Cuba 12 miles.

The commander of the Tornado publicly stated in Santiago de Cuba that one hour later and the Virginius could have saved herself by entering some port in Jamaica. After the capture, the next two hours were employed in transferring some of the prisoners to the Tornado, and putting a prize crew on the Virginius. The total number of persons on board amounted to 165, of whom 90 are said to be natives of the Island and the remainder foreigners. Of these 165 persons, 63 are thought to form the crew. At midnight that night the two vessels started for Santiago de Cuba, and arrived the following day at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, having been joined by the Spanish steamer Cantabro. The fact alone of seventeen hours steaming would tend to prove that they were a considerable distance from Cuba, and very near Jamaica, as the distance between the two Islands is not much above one hundred miles.

The following day, the 2nd, a court-martial was held on board the Tornado, which commenced at 9 and terminated at 4 o'clock. All were tried as pirates, and the findings of the court and sentences were sent to the Captain General and Admiral in sealed packages. After the court had concluded its task, the prisoners were all transferred to jail. General Burriel, it is said, coolly asked that all the prisoners should be turned over to him with the exception of Captain and crew, who should be sent to Havana, at the disposal of Commodore General, DeMarina, and declared that within twenty-four hours afterwards all should be tried and executed, in order to avoid any complication with the exterior; that is, foreign intervention. He also detained a telegram which the United States Consul desired should be forwarded to the United States Consul at Kingston, reporting the Captain and enquiring as to the nationality of the Virginius. All this news was received at Havana with great rejoicings by the Spaniards. Last evening the Captain General received a telegram from Burriel telling the fate of four of the principal prisoners.

WEEKLY REVIEW —OF THE—
WILMINGTON MARKETS.

All classes of business continues dull, but rather a more cheerful feeling is manifested in the various branches. Our Banks are daily being strengthened in their finances, and it is hoped that they will soon be in a position to relieve the pressing mercantile demands. Confidence is gradually being restored, and all indications point to a returning financial ease. Idle capital, and the necessity for its employment, cannot fail to impart a decided impetus in relieving the general stagnation of business, and thereby lessen the embarrassment in mercantile classes. The constant daily increase, unblocking and disbursements of hoarded currency, will necessarily break down exorbitant rates of interest, as confidence becomes fully restored, which is now only a question, we trust, of short time. Exchanges from the financial centres bring what we consider rather cheering news, showing clearly that the clouds which have been hanging over the country and threatening even more of our staunchest business houses, are slowly but surely rolling back, and promises even better time for the future. A late exchange says:

The panic is subsiding—the crisis is past, evidently, and confidence is returning. If recuperation be slow, the immediate future will indicate improvement until the full tide of prosperity again returns. A few weeks to come, possibly, may not afford all the encouragement expected, but so strong are the elements of healthy business ready to be called into action that they will soon assert their power, and the full degree of prospersty will be realized which was foreshadowed just before the late revulsion. In several instance where labor was suspended or curtailed, employment has been restored wholly or partially, the prospect of increased demand being unequivocal. The retail trade is vigorous; never was there a better time to purchase. Our merchants offer the most favoradle bargains, and those who are wise will improve the present opportunity.

CRUDE TURPENTINE—The market for this article opened at the closing quotations of our last review. A decline in the manufactured article, and an unsettled money market, caused a corresponding decline in the crude. The receipts have been fair, and lots as arriving found purchasers only at a slight decline. On Saturday the market declined to $1 50 for hard, $2 50 for yellow dip, and $2 for virgin. Monday an advance of 30 cents for hard was quotable. Tuesday the receipts were placed at $1 75 for hard, $2 65 for yellow dip, and $2 12 for virgin, which prices continue steady p to to-day, when hard advanced to $1 80. The receipts and sales for the week foot up 1,053 bbls. against 1,068 bbls. last week.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—This market is generally very sentitive and subject to fluctuation. There seems to be less speculative demand and the trade recently has been confined to a much more healthy basis. The prices ruled firm without change until Monday, sales of 150 casks were effected at 36 cents, an advance of 1 cent, but the advance was not maintained and quietly receded to 35 cents, at which figures it closes quiet but firm. The receipts for the week foot up 1,487 casks against 1,906 casks of last week. To-day the market evinces a firmor feeling, 35 cents being freely bid and 36 cts. asked.

ROSIN—Has been very little sought after during our review week and has, under a decreasing demand, depressing telegraphic advices and liberal receipts declined 5 to 10 cts. in price. Friday the market opened at a decline of 5 cts. from the sales of the previous day, and again declined daily until Thursday when the market evinced firmer feelings and on Wednesday it advanced 5 cts. and closed firm. The receipts for the week foot up 10,376 bbls. against 11,302 bbls, for last week.

TAR has suffered no change in price during the past week. The receipts are light, and about equal to the demand, and factors find no trouble in placing them at $2. The receipts and sales for the period under review foot up 550 bbls. against 525 bbls. of the preceding week.

COTTON—The depression in this staple, noted in our last, still continues, though the market is a little more buoyant than it was at the close of our last review. It opened steady at 12 cents for low middling, and on Monday influence by telegraphic advices it advanced ¼ cent, but on Tuesday, under unfavorable advices, it declined ¼ cent, but later in the day evinced a firmer feeling, and on yesterday it rallied and regained the decline of the previous day. The receipts for the week foot up 892 bales against 1,360 bales for last week. We quote the market to-day quiet but firm as follows:

PROSPECTUS.

THE EVENING POST.

J. C. MANN,

EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

Published every evening, except Sunday, at Five Dollars per Annum.

The Post is designed to reach all classes of citizens, and its subscription price is therefore placed so low as to be within the reach of all. It contains the up to the time of going to press,

LATEST NEWS,

TELEGRAPHIC,
BY MAIL,
COMMERCIAL AND LOCAL.

It should be in the hands of every man who desires to know what has transpired during the day, and, as it aims to give its publisher hopes it will prove a welcome guest in many families.

THE POST

is sprightly without being sensational, and it carefully excludes all objectionable incidents and reports calculated to offend the sensibilities of the most fastidious. As an

Advertising Medium

it claims to be first class. It has a good and constantly increasing circulation, and is read by almost every business man in the city. Politically the Post is UNSWERVINGLY REPUBLICAN.

Its editor having been a consistent member of that party since 1855, through its vicisitudes and triumphs, he claims to speak advisedly when advocating its principles. He is not, however an "extremist," and accords to others what he claims for himself, the right of free thought and of free speech.

THE ADVERTISING RATES of the Post, like its subscription price, are at liberal and at living prices, as an examination of them will show, and it bespeaks a share of public patronage.

THE EVENING POST

is closely identified with the local welfare of the Cape Fear region, and the believers in progress, whether

EDUCATIONAL,
AGRICULTURAL,
MECHANICAL, or COMMERCIAL,

will find an enthusiastic ally in THE POST.

THE POST

is opposed to monopolies, but in favor of internal improvements, and a firm believer in the patronage and support of home enterprises and institutions.
